ANOTHER proof that the Daily Press cannot even copy from the evening papers correctly, In yesterday's issue :- "The suit Hancock v." Humphreys Estate and Finance Company. Limited, has, we learn, been settled by the plaintiff accepting the amount paid Court, namely $136.94. amount of claim being $33594, of which $200 had previously been paid." We learn is good; why was not the D. P. in court, so as to learn correctly? According to this, the claim of Mr. Hancock was $336.94, "of which $200 had previously been paid, and the balance was paid into court Then why the spit? The fact is the $200 was not paid, and the suit was brought to recover i but was abandoned as hopeless.

THUS the Penang Gasette: - A new circus will probably visit us towards the close of the year. when a portion of Bush's Circus, said to be the largest show of the kind on the European continent, will touch at Penang on its way to the World's Fair at Chicago. The full Circus said to compile over 400 horses, and be something on the scale of the renowned Barnum's Circus, and it is making in sections to Chicago, to be present at the World's , Fair next year. The portion that comes enstwards comprises 75 horses and a manageries of wild, beasts, and it may be expected here in November, whither it come direct from Colombo, where it arrive towards the end of October. The advance agent, Mr. S. Reich, formerly manager of Woodyear's Circus, is now here, with instructions to erect, a building in readiness on a large piece of vacant ground. The performance will comprise the latest novelties and will be given in three rings. From Penang, the Circus will proceed to Singapore. and thence to Chicago vid Hongkong and Japan. Mr. Reich gives us to understand that he is prepared to purchase all kinds of wild animals on behalf of Bush's Circus.

The new clauses provide, among other things, for the compulsory endorsement on write of particulars of the alleged libels, the payment of money into court at the same time that s defence is lodged danying liability, the enabling of foint defendants to put in separate defences an extension of the principle of consolidation of defences, greater facilities for obtaining security for costs, additional responsibility in the case compensation, the privileging of fair and accurate reports where either they are of public benefit or they relate to matters of public concern, and a medification of the conditions under which the fist for criminal proceedings can be granted. The bill was backed by Sir Albert Rollit, Dr. Cameron, Mr. H. W. Lawson, Mr. Wilcox, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, and Mr. Jennings but it did not progress beyond the first reading during the past senion. Query: Will this law, when passed in the English Parliament, take effect in the Crown Colonies? It is to be fervently hoged that it will not in its present form, for we note that it contains no provision for the infliction of heavy penalties on jurors who bring in a verdict contrary to the weight evidence—a common practice in this Colony, as we know to our cost.

The Chairman :- Gentlemen, this meeting has been called for the purpose of confirming the resolutions passed at the last meeting. really important point which we wish to bring before your notice is that the new company gives one share in exchange for every share in the old company; the new shares, instead of being each $10 paid up, as at present, will be reckened as of $4 nominal value, of which $21 will be credited as paid up. and there will be $t.50 liability on each new share. Shareholders are lavited to exchange their old shares for these new ones, and with this exchange they will be called upon to pay 50 cents per share, which call we trust will be sufficient for a long time. The preference shares will be exchanged for exectly the same number -that is, any person holding ten old preference shares will be entitled to ten new one dollar preference shares. If nobody wishes to make any remarks. I will propose the adoption of the resolutions :-

That it is desirable to reconstruct the company, and accordingly that the company be wound up volunturily, and that A. O'D Gourdin, Esq. " be and he is hereby appointed liquidator for the purpose of such winding up,

That the said liquidator be and he is hereby Mining Company, Limited, with a memorandum and Articles of Association which have already been prepared with the privity and approval of the directors of this

"THE MIKADO!"

When the Stanley Opera Company first essayed to represent "The Mikado," their failure was lamentable, so dissirous, in fact, as to justify the title given to them by the Hongkong Telegraph by which they are better (though now very unjustly) known—the "Awfuls." Since that bad beginning, they have been in Japan and studied the people, they have carried out long tour all over the East, improving their style as they took to heat all the well meant but at times severe chifcisms which greeted them, and now, the result is as we anticipated yesterday-glorious success. If perfection can be found in a travelling show in the East, the "Stanleys" are perfection. The revelation of last night's performance was the new contralto, Miss Brooks (Katisha) This lady has quite recently begun to take leading parts, and in acting, of course, requires what all actors and actresses require-time; experience, and confidence. But her voice is undoubtedly an immense acquisition to the company, and will place her well in the front rank before long. Her register is extensive, though she requires training, as her middle notes are not fully developed as they should be. For a comparative novice, her success is simply astonishing, and the audience was not slow to express, its appreclation. Her make-up was perhaps upnecessarily bideous, but that is a detail.

Of the others, there is not much new to record Miss Dolly Childs made an unusually fascinating Yum-yum, and sang and acted with great expression. Mr. Driscoll found in Ko ko a part which suited him admirably, and the wealth of Gilbertian humour was fully exploited by him. His singing is no great shakes, but his comicality is irresistible. Mr. Liddlard, who personated the Mikado, is always rather stiff. with an appearance of feeling himself to be in the way; while his perpetual railway-signal motion with the arms would be really funny if it were not so painful to see. Mr. Packard (Lord High Everybody) should try to realise that he is not the "heavy man" in heavy tragedy. Apart from his depressing style, he sings well. What was most to be regretted was that the "Madrigul," the gem of the whole opera, was omitted-brightly dawned the wedding day without any mention being made of the fact. We cannot believe the omission was caused by any fear that, the company was not up to it: It must have been some eccentricity of the management, otherwise so good! This was the only real flaw in an excellent performance of an excellent opera."

A GROWL FROM THE "OCEANIC."

A correspondent sends us the following letter, which is of considerable local interest in a large shipping community, or its fate would probably have been that of the wast majority of similar communications which reach this office :--

Hongkong, July 1st, 1892. Mr. Editor .- Why is it that the Canadian acific Co. have the choice of docks in preference to the steamer Oceanic? If officers and engineers. refused togo to Aberdeen Dock perhaps the White Star Co. might make enquiries! We sall two days shead of the Empress of India and could have docked and been out to-morrow, or even to-day at a push, leaving the Empress plenty of time to do her work and enjoy the privilege of a healthy dock.

They are favored, and we are not, although the White Star Co. have been patrons of the Dock Company for 16 years. It is simply an outrage to send this ship to Aberdeen Dock in this miscrable weather, when a great many of her crew are down with fever, although we are lying in the mest exposed part of the harbour. There is something wrong, Mr. Editor; to us on board the Oceanic it appears that favoritism exists ! Those on board who have no "pidgin " can fly to the Peak or elsewhere, and I don't blame them, as I have seen nearly a dozen laid up at once as the result of a temporary, residence authorized to consent to the registration of of three days in Aberdeen Dock. I am sorry to a new company, to be named the Punjam | trouble you, but my blood bolls at such injustice. and if there are any ill. effects from our star there you will hear from me chop-chop!"

"ONE OF THE CREW WHO KNOWS." [Our correspondent has, to our way of thinking been as hasty in juripling to conclusions the re injustice, etc., as he is wrong in his assertions and 'at sea! in his inferences. The Dock Company management can have no interest whatever in showing favoritism to hae line of steamers to the disadvantage of shother; and further, the deservedly high character of Mr. David Gillies in the enterprise which his ability, foresight and indomitable energy have engineered from the lowest ebb of despondency until to-day it is the most substantial and sefest limited liability concern in Hongkongeven although obstructed by successive directorates composed chiefly of second-class and utterly useless mud-heads who have simply fattened on the "earnings of the Company for years-should have been a sufficient reason to prevent our friend of the Oceanic from making an insinuation which, on the face of it, is absurd Besides, the assertion, unsupported by sany reliable evidence whatever, that Aberdeen Dock is exceptionally unhealthy, is mere balderdash. Aberdeen is a good deal farther away from . Hongkong than Hungham or Sam-sui-po, the communication is much more uncertain and unsatisfactory-and that is where the trouble comes in. Aberdeen is much cooler than Hongkong at night, it is quite open to the sea-breezes which almost invariably blow in after sunset during this monsoon, and since the Dock Company reclaimed the swamp to the eastward of the docks, established an excellent if somewhat limited system of affinestation, reconstructed the old-fashioned buildings, and made other useful improvements, the place leaves no solid ground for complaint. We are acquainted with a responsible employé of the Dock Company who managed Aberdeen for many years without his health suffering in the slightest degree. and we have also known several whom it completely "broke up." But circumstances alter cases, and the "broken up" (or should it be 'broken down' I) had only themselves to thank in nineteen cases out of twenty. They exposed themselves to the sun bathing at an early hour in the afternoon, or played ducks and drakes with the honored cannos of tectotalisea. or went to the mischief in other ways-and then blamed the climate of Aberdeen for the results of their own folly. It is uties and absolute rot. " The docks at Aberdeen are unsurpasted in any respect in the Far East or anywhere. else, and the objections of officers and engineers to go there are simply because they happen to be rather inconveniently placed in relation to Hongkong. If the officers and engineers of the Oceanic had refused to go to Aberdeen when ordered by the Agents of the Company and the Captain of the ship, they would probably have been treated to an official interview at the Magistracy and the customary period of retirement, at the option of the Captain. The references of our correspondent to the White Star Co. making inquiries are entirely meaningless and not in

THE ARBITRATOR'S AWARD.

At Shanghal on June 30th, the Arbitrator.

Mr. N. J. Hannen, Chief Juctice, gave his decision. After hearing Mr. W. H. Drummond for the China Merchant Co., Mr. Hannen said-I do not think that I should be justified in reserving further my consideration of the question. and I do not want to hear Mr. Stokes. The most able way in which Mr. Drummond has put the very difficult case he had to put has almost made me want, for the sake of showing him the appreciation I feel for his arguments, to defer what I have to say, but I do not think I should be justified in doing so, This is the view I take of the case, A ship is going along in a fog, a fog of such spon through the whole case—I find the question is "Was the Peking to blame also ?" The only thing that can bo alleged against her is that she did not do a thing which some people—I will only put it so far-would think an English captain would be committing a misdemeanour if he had done. cannot deprive the owners of the Peking of their rights because he did not do a thing which some at 500 yards was the best performance of the people might consider in itself a misdemeanour. Now the whole argument of Mr. Drummond comes to this, not only that Captain Schulis would have been justified in blowing his whiatle. but that he was bound to do it, That he might have been justified, I think the case of the Nebaul shows; but any way, in not one single place has it been shown that the Court says because you do not depart from the strict rule therefore you should be condemned." I capnot get over that I been are the two points of ell which I do not think needs any further comment, the one of the pace, Article 13 says "Every ship.

whether a politic thip of a stoutship, shall in a fog, mist, er falling snow, go at a moderate speed," and therefore when it comes to be proved she did go to knots, there cannot be any doubt that she was to blame. With regard to the other point, the judement in the case of the City of Antwerp. (2 Privy Council Appeals, page 34. In this case it will be seen it would be impossible for me to find what the Privy Council there said must be found ;-first, that the thingomitted to be done was clearly within the power of the steamer to do; secondly, that if done it would in all probability have prevented a collision. With regard to the first it is true; with regard to the second I have my doubts. I cannot say that in all probability it would have prevented a collision; and thirdly, that it was an act "which would have occurred to any officer of competent skill and experience " in any steamer. I think it is marifest that it is not an act "which would have occurred to any officer of competent skill and experience." On the contrary it was an act which most competent men would have avoided doing, and on those grounds-throughout the case I have been so impressed with the fairness and frankness and kindness of Captain Croad, that it is with the greatest pain I have to decide it in the way I do-I am bound to decide that the Fushun was cutirely to blame for this collision. I shall of course make this award in writing under the terms of the arbitration deed and then will follow the usual reference.

THE TRANSIT PASS SYSTEM · IN CHUNGKING.

The Chungking correspondent of the Shanghai Mercury writes on this vexed question under date June 4th as follows :-I'have on several occasions mentioned the actions of the officials of this province regarding the Transit Pass system and the collecting of Lekin on fareign goods, but there still remains much to be said on the subject. Recent developments show pretty conclusively that the actions of the local efficials are and have been in accordance with instructions received from the Vicercy, who in this province is about as much an absolute manarch as the Czar of Russia. in his own dominions. The Transit Pass system is practically non-existent in this province goods have been sent away from here, which have been detained at the Lekin battlers and forcedi, to pay Lekin after they had paid the half Transit duty; others have been allowed to pass the barrier but on arrival their destination forced to pay Lekin where there never was any Lekin collected before, and by the district magistrate who ordinarily has nothing to do with such matters. Not only were the goods compelled to pay this illegal tax, but the man in charge of them was imprisoned and fined for no other reason than availing himself of the rights granted the goods by treaty, regardless of ownership. The official at the harrier at Ho Chow declared that he knew nothing about the Transit Pass and would not recognise it, unless ordered to do so by the Viceroy, and this it is very clear the Viceroy die not do. It is perfectly well known that no petty willig refuse to recognise any Treat segulation unless he is certain of the aperova of his superiors. If he did so it is quite certain that he would lose his situation. I learn from what I consider a thoroughly reliable source that the Vicercy has circulated private instructions to the effect that all goods going into the Interior under Transit Pass must pay a lote tex of three per cent, on arriving at their destination. It matters not whether there is any lote collected in the district or not; goods arriving under Transit Pass must pay this tax of three per cent which is more than the half duty and is also more than the full amount a Lekin Pass would be if there was no Transit Pass taken out. It is therefore plain enough that if a merchant wishes to use the Transit Pass it will cost him little more than double what it would to pay Lekin an route, in which cave there would be no lote to pay on them except in a very few places; the said lote Lekin does not exist unless as above stated, when the goods have arrived under Transit Pass. One of the foreign hongs here was making arrangements to send snother small consignment of cotton yarn_away under Transit Pass, when the Magistrate here heard of it and sent for the manager and told him in a friendly way that it was only a waste of time and money to attempt anything of the sort, as the goods would be allowed to pass the barriers but that when they arrived at their destination and passed into the hands of the native merchants the lote Lekin would be collected on them, and in that case it would be a matter in which the foreigner could not interfere. This is a purely Chinese argument and has not a particle of reason or justice in it, as everyone knows that it matters not who pays the "squeeze"; the value of the goods is increased just so much and the consumer is the one who pays it in reality As to the legality of the Viceroy's actions it is not necessary to discuss as the treaties are clear enough and he is perfectly well aware that he i acting illegally; and he also knows quite well that in matters concerning foreigners or foreign trade the Peking Government will not trouble itself much about what he does, so long as he gives a plausible explanation of his actions; and he also knows that there is not the remotest possibility of a strict investigation of his doings; It is reported here that he has petitioned the Emperor setting forth that he has to supply large sums of money to help to pay the expenses of the Provinces of Kansuh and Yunnan, and it is only by rigidly collecting the Lekin that he can raise this money. Chinese officials ignore the fact that the hall duty belongs to the Emperor and is levied instead of the Lekin, and if the Lekin were insufficient to meet the demands of the provinces this half duty would be available for local use, but such an arrangement would not suit the provinical officials. dor in that case the board at Pekin would know the exact amount of money they got and how they accounted for the expenditure. What Lekin is collected no one knows anything about, as there is not the alightest check on the Viceroy. H can report as much or as little as he sees fit, and there is no one to impeach him, unless it be a censor who denounces him. Even then it | seldem amounts to anything serious. None of his subordinates dare to lodge a complaint against him. Should his affairs be in a very bad state and an Imperial commissioner sent to investigate his dologs he has only to pay liberally for a favourable or negative report, and he may be found to have done something not in cirict accordance with the regular routine, and he is accordingly handed over to the board for a other day the services of guards were called into punishment, which seldom amounts to much beyond making him dirgorge some of his illegally gotten gains. It is actonishing that the foreign | the evil influence away. Through carelessness provement in the present state of affairs while the ministers at Peking are apparently neglecting everything else but vying with each other in trying to obtain large contracts to supply bridges, rallway materials and munitions of war, It would seem that, if the trade with China is worth having manufacturers should send their selver, and study the requirements of the trade. The second officer of the German steamship Zaicheong, which was advertised to sail for Dell via Swatow to-day, shot himself with a revolver on board his ship at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The cause of the rash act is not yet known. The body has been removed to the Mortuary pending an inquest.

THE TEMOAH GOLD MINE.

From a conversation the other day with a gentleman recently arrived from Mr. Norman's concession we (Slam Free Press) gather the nature of the dispute which has long been going on in thandistrict between the Chinese, who were in possession of the district, and the agents of the concessionaire. The Temoh concession may be compared to that of Bangiapan, in that the natives have long worked the gold found there. It has another grim resemblance to Bangtapan Inasmuch as the district is pestilential in the extreme, fatal slike to natives and Europeans. It was asserted at one time that the district was the most salubrious in the Peninsola, and that Europeans might continue operations there without dread of malarial fever. Such a prophecy has been proved entirely untrue. The manager, Mr. Hodge, is laid up in Singapore with a severe attack of fever, and the doctor engaged by the company was so helpless from a similar attack that he was unable to proceed to Singapore. Our ir formant says that the place is equally dangerous to the natives, and of the 300 coolles engaged few are l-ft at the mines.

For some time past there has been considerable trouble with the Chinese in the vicinity. which has seriously hampered, the weeking of the mine. So serious had the situation become that the Director at Singapore wrote to the Siamese Gevernment on the subject; with the result that H. H. Chow Sye was despatched to the scene of the dispute with full powers to arrange with the Chinese for a complete evacuation of Mr. Norman's concession, some forty square miles in extent. On arriving there Chaw Sve explained to the natives the wishes of the Siamese Government, and that they must 'remove their work elsewhere. This was all very well and would, no doubt, have made an end of the matter had not Mr. Hodge previously promised to give the native workers some little compensation for the trouble of maving their houses elsewhere. This action of the manager seems to have given a certain number of the Chinese gold diggers the idea that their claim is good. and though the majority of the native workers bave joined the coolies of the company, there is still a recalcitrant minority who may cause much Further, it appears that Mr. Hodge has caused some little offence to the Singapore Director, who considers that the Chinese had no claim whatever to compensation, and that the manager exceeded his powers in giving, such. It contended, and with reason we think, that as the concession was granted by the Government it was the bounden duty of that Government to remove the Chinese workers, and protect the staff and coolles of the company. However, we trust that any misunderstanding between the Directors and managing engineer will not tend to jeopardise the success of the venture. Mr. Hodge, we understand, has had great experience both in Polivia and Chili, and from his repute and previous success we should say that he was a very valuable acquisition to any company that is anxious for success. Good managing engineers are scarce at the present moment in the Far East, and it would be a pity if any petty difference of views cost the Company the services of an experienced and successful man.

We have heard much of the auriferous districts of Siam, and we have been disappointed in the results of the working and management of most of the ventures started in the country. This may be as much from incompetence as on account of other difficulties; but we would wish to see every mining enterprise in Siam given a fair field, for proving its worth, and by being worked on sound commercial footing remove the stigms that has been attached to past mining enterprises in the Land of the White Elephant.

SIAM NOTES.

Ban, kok, 21st June, 1892.

In real zing the estate of the late Kim Ching, Slameso Consul in Singapore, the steamers Singapore and Siam are to come under the hammer. The former will be sold on the 30th instant and the latter on the 30th July. The Siam is quite a new sterm r.

The Devamongse made the shortest passage on record between Swatow and Banckok. Captain Leff expected that his steamer was wanted for the Tacoma-Hongkong line, and made all haste to get down here, and back to Hongkong before July. The run from Swatow to Bangkok was accomplished in the short space of five days, or two days under the usual time.

A rumour has reached us to the effect that H. 'S. M. Minister (or Deputy Minister) of Finance lately received from one of his royal half-brothers a letter, which was sealed with the sender's big toe. We ardently hope that this rumour is without foundation, but if it is true then the offence ought not to go unpunished We admit the difficulty which exists in punishing a person of such exalted rank as the alleged offender; and we humbly suggest a means which would unite justice and mercy. If the offence he fully proved, let the affender receive promotion with the rank and title of Krom Mun Hoon Me Teen with a cost of arms as follows on a field or a blg toe Gules. Motto : " Being basest, meanest, vilest, still goeth foremost."

A considerable amount of solicitude, for the wellbeing of a Mr. Jurgens late of the Royal Railway Department (appointed by the immuculate Bethee) was exhibited during the week by neveral husiness men in Bangkok who had been what is sulgarly known as "let in" by the willy rallway engineer. Mr. Jurgent had made large igroads on the stores of Bangkok both for the inner and outer map, plus an interesting family; and seemed for from eager to do justice to his long-suffering creditors These latter were further exasperated by the fact that three months sulary had been paid this valuable State servant in lieu of notice, and the Injured creditors tack measures to compel their con umacious creditor to pay up. Jurgens however, was too quick for them, and though a warrant was made out for his detention be contrived to clude those interested in his movements and taking a steam launch in the middle of the night hade a long forewell to Bangkok. He went over to Koh-sl-chang, a nel-hbouring island watering place, and, having the day previous taken a ticket at Messes. Windsor and Co.'s was enabled to get away on one of the steamers lying in Koh-si-chang harbour.

Many persons have been surprised that Capt tin Buthmann should lend one of his launches to a man against whom judgment had been pronounced a few days before, for the major portion of his debts. But it appears that Captain Buthmann was deceived. On the pretext that his charming wife had missed the Hecate, Mr. O. Jurgens induced the Manager of the New Fietilla Company to take him to Koh-si-chang, averring that he would be back next day. Of course, once in Koh-si-chang, he remained there, till he left by the Hecate.

A shocking case of cruelty to the child of a slave was reported the other day. A Slamese lady, or rather fiend, was annoyed by hearing the cries of the child of her slave-cook, and as the mother was busy cooking and unable to attend to it, the inhuman monster seized the poor child and held its head in the smove of the fire. The torture of being suffocated in smoke caused the child to struggle for life, and this so irritated the innatural woman that ir a fit of rage she, threw the child into the The mother bearing the cries of her child rushed to its rescue. The fearful burns caused its death a few days afterwards. The wretched mistress has been arrested, and t expected to lose her head. About the same time another case of cruelty to a slave-woman -was-reported.—It-seems-that-her-mistress had been annoyed at the poor woman's illness, which disabled her from her ordinary duties. Her mistress attacked her, and beat the poor woman most unmercifully, her shricks of agony being most heartrending. We are told by a eye-witness that her treatment was most inhuman, and that a Bangkok peon was called upon to interfere, but refused on the plea that it was none of his business, and that the mistress could do as sh wished with her slave. And yet we are constantly told that the treatment of debt-slaves in Slam is humane in the extreme. Slavery, under whatever form, is a direct incentive to cruelty, and as long as it exists there will ever be bideou cases of inhumanity by savage and brutal owners .- Free Press.

23rd June, 1892; Natives are on the "qui vive" as to wher the future Railway Station will be, and small plots of land have been bought on spec, which however, could hardly become a very profitable one, as the government would simply take what ever land is required, and owners may be gilled they get back the cost. As for any acquisition made by foreigners, unless the demands be ver reasonable it is not likely the terminus will b put exactly to suit the proprietors, even if these can be said to be within their rights away from the foreign or rather the British Settlement or Concession. By the bye, where is the Concession now, for at any rate the larger part of it which was known as the "Uaccupied portion?"

Echo answers, " in the river." From Kirin we hear that brigandage is not by any means extinct. The mountainous district to the North-east is much favoured by the Rohin Hood class, who are not particular in their attacks, for government convoys, if not protected by soldiers, are not safe. A little while since shout 1cd If from Kirls some breach-loading rifies and cartridges on the way to the Arsenal had to be given up to the denizers of the mountains, where supply of ammunition had run short. The leader of a formidable band is named "Kuan Lao Tao" (The Old Ruler of the Reads, or Highwayman), which I presume is his nom de guerre. He bas at less 300 followers, and has defied the Government for ten years. When hard pressed, he retires to the wilds where the soldiers date not hearly 60 feet long and costing about Tis. 4000 follow. (FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The tioting in the south of the province appears to have been suppressed. It is said that the telegraph poles were destroyed because they were supposed to belong to foreigners and because it was believed by the mob that the presence of these poles spoiled the fingshul. No haim was done to any foreigner. The Governor acted promptly in the matter, but intelligent Chinese say the Government ought to have issued a proplamation at the time the telegraph wire was creeted, informing the people that it was Government property.

The state of the flngshul is occasioning a good deal of discussion among the people just now. owing to the fact that almost no rain falls. The presence of the hated foreigner is believed to have something to do with the unpropitious omens, the rain dragon being thus kept from performing his functions.

There is no doubt a good deal of ill-feeling towards foreigners among all classes of Chinese in the province; but that is not to be wondered at, seeing that here in the interior they have almost no means of ascertaining the facts. should be mentioned, too, that many of the Chinese are friendly and generous towards their foreign "guests," and it is pleasant to be able to add that the Taiku magistrate, after his official visit last fall, reported to head-quarters that the mission there had now been established eight years and had done " nothing but good."

Probably a large majority of the missionaries In Chien will approve of the official advice to that body published in the North China Herald of April 8th. In the present disturbed state of public feeling'it is difficult to be too careful so as not to unnecessarily offend the prejudices of the Chinese. 'Would it not be well to require all new missionaries to spend at least one ful your at one of the ports or cice at one of the older inland stations? To travel around after only a couple of months' study of the language, and with almost no knowledge of the manners e rid customs of the people, is not only to endanper ouch own life but may lead at any time to a general uprising against all foreigners. Is i "dvisable thus to display seal without knowledge? Would it not be better to be able to say, as an o'd missionary once said of a certain people " being crafty, I caught you with guile?"

. The enterprising shopman who last year introduced inrickshas, has gone a step farther and now offers his customers five cheap bicycles for their accommedation. He informs me that his townsmen do not take so kindly to the latter as they did to the 'rickshas.

Last night there was a refreshing rain,-N. C. Daily News.

NANKING.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

NANKING, June 26th, 1892. We are beginning to have hot weather now. and a punkah is a real pleasure in the sultry evenings. - I have already mentioned something about the new management of the Naval College. I may add that the Viceroy, on coming thio office, removed Mr. Shen Yun-bo, to appoint one of his own creatures to Mr. Shen's post, and the new incumbent conscientiously squeezed as many dollars as he possibly could out of the appointment, with the result that the College was very nearly ruined. Seeing how matters were going on, the Viceroy very wisely recalled Mr. Shen and sent him to take up his old post. A few days ago eight of the soldiers engaged in killing locusts, entered a farm-house, and finding only two defenceless young girls, borribly outraged them. The Viceroy has decapitated four of the ruffians, and the other four are waiting their turn. Four other men have also been beheaded recently for silk robbery. Apropos of an article in your morning contemporary, to which my attention was directed. concerning the building of two-storeyed houses in Peking, an incident has happened here which I will tell you about. A missionary about to erect a large building as a bospital, became troubled in his mind as to how the residents is the street would take the innovation. He enquired of several friendly Chinese, who told him that all the people living in the street, which is one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, were very well pleased with the idea of the new edifice. This satisfied the conscientious missionary and he determined to proceed with the building. Sometime later, however, he was informed that if the new premises were two-storeyed, the man living on the left would be much injured through his property being depreciated or account of the height of the building. The missionary has now either to buy his neighbour's property or make the hospital a storey lower, The trouble is that the Chinese say when two buildings are heside one another, the one on the left is said to be built on the green dragen and the one on the right on the white tiger. Now, the tiger must not be higher than the dragon or death or bad luck will result. The missionary's hospital was to be erected on the white tiger, and could on no account be higher than that on which his neighbour built, - Shanghai Mercury.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

We in the far northern regions are coming into closer contact with the civilisation of the West, Imagine my surprise and pleasure the other day to see in one of our interior sivers a substantial steam-launch, over 20 feet long, lying at ancher. I went over and inspected the new arrival, and the engineer, a Shangbai man, received me pleasantly, and in clear Mandarin, informed me that it belonged to the Governor-General of Moukden and was to be used in tow-Ing Government patrol boats up and down the siver. It draws three feet of water, and cannot therefore ascend the higher reaches of the river in the dry season. I learned also that it had cost about Tis, 1000, and that another one

On the alarm being given, the lady and her amah rose hastly and dressed in the dark, and their boat being a little distance behind the other, they were presentable by the time that nine of the rescale rudely pulled down the curtain and ordered two boats travelling together, one laden with

While on the first boat the men had. been fold that the cargo belonged to foreigners and that there was a foreign passenger on the boat immediately behind, but they did at Daylight. not believe it. . They went to the lady's boat to see for themselves, and as they went, one was heard to say in a loud whisper to his comrades, "look out, foreigners' guns are dangerous weapons !" The lady and her amah behaved heroically and kept very cool. The pirates enquired if there were any guns or silver on board. The amah cleverly parleyed with them, and said that as her mistress was a misslonary, they had nothing but provisions, books, &c.; then they addressed the lady herself, and asked her if she understood Chinese, " of course I do" she holdly replied, "what do you went here?" When satisfied that the lady was really a foreigner, and that the cargo was at 5 P.M.

On the "boy" hearing this assuring intimation he called out" One of you took my jacket off me; please give it back to me "-which they actually did. They offered no violence except to one of the boatmen, which they did in the hope of exterting some money from him. Seeing a foreign candle burning in the lady's apartment they asked for one, and got it. Before leaving they said, "When you reach the next city, don't inform on us." "Oh no" said the amah, "you have not interfered with us and of course we shall not interiere with you," They parted most agreeably and the amah actually called out to them in the blandest possible manner- Awei las tini chien"-au revolr. The rencontre terminated in the most satisfactory way for the captives, for besides a large amount of medicine, stores clothing, &c. there were actually seven shoes of silver on board. I believe that the pirates let the boats pass without carrying off any booty because they felt that to touch the foreigner or his goods would result in utter suin to their trade and probably themselves also. Long may the illusion continue

HOTEL IN THE EAST.

(Under the distinguished patronage of the Imperial Household.)

HIS fine hotel is situated within five minutes' drive of the terminus of the Yokohama-Tokyo Railway and is in near proximity to the Imperial Palace, the Parliament House and the Chief Public Offices. There are no inside rooms, thus securing well lighted, ventilated and cheerful accommodatime. The Culsine cannot be surpassed, and the aim of the management is to provide for the comfort and pleasure of the guests. The attractions of Tokio are countless, and the religious and floral festivals being of daily occurrence are to be seen at their best and on a grander scale than in any other portion of Japan. All the noted actors, wrestlers and jugglers make the capital their head-quarters.
